Ecosite One

Posterior restorations made simple

The innovative Ecosite One layering composite sets new standards in the field of posterior restorations. The Push-and-Flow effect and the One-Shade concept produce outstanding aesthetics and impress all those who opt for universal composite layering technology and want to save valuable time in the process.

An easy process for dentists, with great results for patients:

- Push-and-Flow effect for excellent handling
- One colour suits all, thanks to the One-Shade concept
- Valuable time savings thanks to 3 mm curing depth and 10 second rapid polymerisation
